The PTSA needs everyone's help with our latest outreach project and it's easy - write letters to our troops for Valentine's Day. The project is called "The Heart Project". Working with ASB, we will conduct a grade spirit points competition to get students to write letters to support our brave soldiers overseas who protect our country. The project will accept letters from January 30th through February 10th for a delivery date near Valentine's Day. Make sure you turn your letters in at the ASB room to the color coded boxes for your grade level during snack or lunch during that time. To help make things easier, we have letter templates that you can use if needed to customize your letter on the PTSA website, www.thhsptsa.org/, or by picking one up in the office. Additional letters from family and friends are welcome, too, but they will be accepted in a drop off box in the office. Remember each letter turned in counts as 10 spirit points, plus it's a good way to show appreciation and connect with our peers who are just like us. Please help us send letters in honor of Valentine's Day to spread love and joy into hearts from miles away. This is a project that was started at THHS, but now the entire Saddleback School district is participating from K-12th grade, As the largest school, we hope to have the most letters to send! If you have a question, please email Nicole at nicole@fluxi.com. To see how happy our troops are when they receive letters, please visit this website, <http://youtu.be/iyGLIjFP0nY>. Thanks for participating.
